League Won't Exhibit Books

Up in New York State the Anti-Saloon League is on trial. It has been charged for the past five years or more that the league in many states was being used purely for political purposes. In Democratic states for the Democratic party and the same has been said of its use in states that are usually Republican.

The league has used great funds of money in political campaigns and yet never filed an expense account as must the political party managers and all of the candidates.

New York is trying - to force this

While the league in every state has received small amounts from the collection basket in churches it has really thrived on the large amounts paid by wealthy citizens in sympathy with the temperance cause. One of the solicitors in New York has let the world out that the money was solicited on a per centage basis. When the John D. Rockefeller interest learned of this the manager announced the withdrawal of further support. The league to hear itself made the charge that the Rockefeller representative had been given an interest.

Then, says the writer, managers of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., that he still had confidence in their representative and resented the league charge. He also stated that such an organization as the league should have no financial secrets and should not fear opening the books to any court for investigation. The case is now before the grand jury and the league is resisting an attempt to compel the officers to Meantime the Rockefeller interests announce that no more funds will be given until the public learns as to all uses of the money so contributed.

The New York League is no different than that in Ohio. Stories have leaked out of Columbus in campaign

A few years ago the Ohio League attempted to force William Conrad, a Cincinatti millionaire tributions to the league. Instead of the league insisting further the managers withdrew rather than lose the $5,000 subscription.

During the campaign Governor Doherty in his speeches stated that if he was elected governor he would have that roads would be built from four to ten thousand dollars a mile and the taxpayers lifted out of the mud. This week contracts were let in four counties one in Morrow for $26,000 county, one in Lawrence, 30,000 a mile; Trumbull county, 48,000 a mile; Geauga county, 24,000 a mile and another in the same county for $21,000 a mile. The average price, in the contracts was about $32,000 a mile which is far from the campaign promise.

Attention Ford Owners!

Ford parts, like almost everything else worth while, are counterfeited. Imitation parts are manufactured to SELL at the highest possible rate of profit and the grades of steel used are consequently not the same high quality, specially heat-treated alloy steels specified in Ford formulas for the manufacture of GENUINE FORD PARTS.

Don't be misled—Insist upon GENUINE FORD PARTS made by the Ford Motor Company. By so doing you will get from 35 to 100 per cent more wear from them, and you will pay the lowest possible cost—the same everywhere.

FOR HUMANITY

We often wonder at times whether the world is taking recognition of the great humanitarian work a number of organizations are doing. Events of the day from over the world oftentimes eclipse what is being done in many ways for suffering humanity.

One of the organizations that is at present helping to build citizenship for the future among the unfortunate is the Rotarians. Hundreds of boys and girls that are deformed or undeveloped are being given free medical examination and treatment to restore them so that they may be able in the years to come to help themselves and not be objects of charity.

Probably the greatest work along this line is that being done by the Shriners, a branch of the Masonic order. At the present time this order is erecting ten hospitals in this country that will cost from $250,000 to $300,000 each. These institutions are scattered all over the country and the first will be opened in March in St. Paul. These institutions will be open to children of all classes, beliefs and nationalities. They will be under the control of a board headed by men who are the leaders in this country in such work as restoring crippled children to become normal.

That there is a great field for this work no one can deny. The government reports 480,000 crippled children in the country that are in families that are unable to place their unfortunate ones in institutions for these corrections.

The Shriners are undertaking a big task but the organization is big, filled with members big of heart who are ready not only to finance these ten different hospitals but to maintain them.

Such work as these organizations are doing can not be estimated in value today. What the state and the nation will be saved in being relieved of the burden of cost in the years to come will never be known. At any rate the state and nation will profit in being spared the expense of the restoration and education of these thousands that they may be dependent on themselves and become useful citizens.

LOCAL MONEY AS USUAL

Once more the blue sky is all that thousands of people in the United States, which we are sorry includes a large number in this county and a few in this vicinity, have for their money that went into a stock selling company in Cleveland.

The Herald almost hesitates to mention these cases, such as the Geiger-Jones, Cleveland Discount Company, and a score of others that to mention is only to bring back unpleasant thoughts to hundreds of investors that were innocently drawn into them. It is not because the public has not had warning about such concerns that persons should trust their money to unknown persons at a distance. People evidently like to take a chance, sort of gamble in the hope of big returns. In such cases as these there can be no complaint when the crash comes, such as with the Geiger-Jones Co. and the Cleveland Discount Co. and others now in the hands of receivers.

This last week several million dollars belonging to individuals and trusted to the Cleveland Discount Co. has been sacrificed and gone down the sewer of economic waste. A concern headed by a man who has had a spectacular past evidently finds it easier to gather in the money than the most conservative bank or building and loan association that is offered by men of their respective communities.

Many local concerns have in the past found it hard to sell their securities. People must have a natural hankering after the stranger who can make the best promise, not taking into consideration whether it can ever be made good.

Instead of local manufacturing concerns having to beg people to buy their securities, the people should oversubscribe at the first call. While some local concerns have failed for reasons sometimes beyond their control, yet these cases are very few and far between and the public has no reason to refuse to invest in a local company that is backed by safe conservative men.

If the public could be induced to buy nothing but the lower rate of interest investments, there would be few losses. It is the concerns that promise the high rates that usually fail.

GLAD WERE ALIVE

On reaching the office this morning a thought came to us, and here it is. We would rather be a poor publisher than to be asleep in the tomb of Caesar. We are glad to be alive—glad to be here and not in the hereafter. It's great to see this world of today in its wonderful achievements. It is great to have passed through the winter and to be looking forward to the coming of spring; to realize that the resurrection of nature is near at hand, that the bleak winds of winter soon will give way to the soft, fragrant zephyrs of spring. Yes, it is great to be alive when the earth is filled with the sleeping forms of our departed friends. And with these inspirational thoughts, we will tackle our job and finish the day with—Work.

Uncle John's Ash

IT'S A GOOD THING THAT ONE HALF OF THE WORLD DOESN'T KNOW WHAT THE OTHER HALF SAYS ABOUT IT!

Ford Could Say This—
"Every day in every way I am getting better off."

Then and Now—
There was a time when the sewing machine was the pride of the best homes. Now it is another kind of a machine—with rubber tires.

They Start Different Now—
It used to be that men started at the bottom and worked up. The older men of success first had to sweep the office or the factory, or be errand boys, now everybody wants to start at the top.

It Is What You Make It—
The city folk who think it is lone some in the country in the winter, are probably wandering disconsolately about their own streets wishing they could make friends.

A Lincoln Story—
Lincoln was sued for killing a dog with a pitchfork.
Judge—"Why didn't you use the other end of the fork?"
Lincoln—"Why didn't the dog come at me with the other end?"

Silver Dollar Song—
Sung to the tune of "Old Oaken Bucket."
How dear to our heart is the old silver dollar,
When some kind customer presents it to view;
The Liberty head without necktie or collar,
And all the strange things which to us seem new;
The wide-spreading eagle, the arrows below it,
The stars and the words and the strange things they tell;
To coin of our fathers, we're glad that we knew it,
For sometime or other 'twill come in right well;
The spread-eagle, dollar, the star-spangled dollar,

The old silver dollar we all love so well."

Mrs. Max Korluk and her three children were burned to death here in a fire that destroyed their home in Steubenville. The father, who was tried to rescue them, is in a hospital in a critical condition.

A new courthouse is to be erected at Logan.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY WHEN SHOPPING

By MRS. HARLAND H. ALLEN
(Co. 1922, Harland H. Allen.)

MAKING CLOTHES LAST LONGER

Do you not know women among your acquaintances who literally spend hours and hours hunting for clothes in the shops, and hundreds of dollars in buying them, and then after all this trouble, neglect to manifest the faintest interest in taking care of them, so that they look old and shabby after a few times wearing?

Clothes well cared for, mean money saved. It matters little how expensive a garment you may get, or how fine a quality the textile may be, if you do not sacrifice the necessary time each day to keep it brushed, and hung on hangers, and frequently pressed. Many a woman envies some friend who is able to present a smart appearance on a smaller clothes budget than she, without realizing that she could do the same thing herself if she but took the same pains. One woman can wear a suit three seasons, and still look well-dressed, while on another person the same suit looks shabby after the first season, and has to be discarded for a new one.

Make it a habit never to put a coat or skirt away with street dust on it. It takes but a second to whisk the dust off with a broom before removing the garment; and, once the habit is formed, it is easier to put the dress away on hangers than to throw it around from one chair to another. If there are spots or stains on a garment, act quickly. A moment's attention in time may save dollars of cleaning costs.

As soon as stockings or underwear are taken off they should be gone over quickly to see if any stitch or darn is needed. It takes very little time to mend the rip when first it appears. Every little break in a sweater should be caught immediately or before night it may turn into a gaping tear.

Shoes should be put away in shoe trees every night; and repaired as soon as the heels begin to run down, or the soles to wear through. Stockings should be washed out each evening and another pair worn next day. Have two of everything, and prolong the life of each article by "giving it a rest" frequently.

This sounds like a great deal of trouble for busy women, but think of the money saved. For any dress or garment so cared for will last twice as long as if neglected.

Thought for the Day.
If we would greet the members of our family in the evening as pleasantly as we have greeted other people during the day, our homes would be happier.

Three Things to Remember.
Think of three things; whence you came, where you are going, and to whom you must account.—Franklin.

Your eyes are your greatest asset. Take better care of them. Regular eye examinations by us insure this care.
